Office Action Summary

RESTRICTION

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-16, drawn to a housing having a substance that changes appearance, classified in class 379, subclass 433.01.
 - II. Claims 17-24, drawn to a housing have layers containing a fluid, classified in class 455, subclass 90.3.
 - III. Claims 25, drawn to a housing having layers containing fiber optics, classified in class 359, subclass 516.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions Groups I, II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions involve Group I which requires a housing made from a specific substance. Group I does not require the combination of the layers and the fluid as it is required in Group II, nor the layers and fiber optics as required in Group III.
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Ms. Randi Karpinia (Reg. No. 46148) on 07-01-04 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-16. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 17-25 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

CLAIMS

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-3, 5, 7-13, 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Laurikka et al. (US 6608996).

Regarding claim 1, Laurikka shows a housing (7) comprising:

An outer visible surface (1) which is composed of an appearance changing substance (3a or 3b) response to an environmental stimulus (V).

Art Unit: 2642

Regarding claim 7, Laurikka shows a housing (7) comprising:

An outer visible surface (1) having at least one shape element (see 2) composed of an appearance changing substance (3a or 3b) responsive to an environmental stimulus (V).

Regarding claims 2-3, 5, 8-13, 15, Laurikka shows:

The housing (7);

Internal components (circuitry, V, speaker, mike. etc.) which generates the environmental stimulus;

The stimulus is a combination of one or more stimuli selected from a group consisting of an acoustic, a thermal, an electrical, an electromagnetic, an olfactory, and a mechanical stimulus (col. 2, lines 31-38);

The substance is a combination of one or more substances selected from a group consisting of a color, a pattern, an illumination, a shape, and a sensory changing substance (col. 3, lines 25-53, col. 4, lines 45-54);

The shaped element becomes visible in response to the stimulus (i.e. 3a);

The shaped element becomes invisible in response to the stimulus (i.e. 3b);

At least one identification information selected from the group consisting of identification data, codes, patterns and images (col. 4, lines 45-54); and

An environment index gauge (col. 4, lines 55-67).

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 4, 6, 14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Laurikka et al. (US 6608996) of Berry (US 5223958).

Regarding claims 4, 6, 14 and 16, Laurikka the appearance changing substance (3a or 3b) response to an environmental stimulus (V).

Laurikka differs from the claimed invention in that it is not a thermal stimulus, or a group consisting of a thermal, vibrating and haptic producing substance.

However, Berry teaches providing a resistive element or thermal/haptic producing substance (12) which can be energized by a thermal stimulus.

Hence, both Laurikka and Berry teach a concept of producing a color pattern on an object, both achieve substantially the same objective for providing enjoyment for the user. Therefore, it would have been obvious for one skilled to use Laurikka as it is, or to modify Laurikka by incorporate Berry's resistive element into Laurikka, such that to have a product which changes color/image to provide enjoyment and entertainment for the user (col. 1, lines 31-55 in Berry).
